DESIGN TOOLS & SYSTEMS

Our firm offers comprehensive design, interior, and planning services tailored to your project's needs. Utilizing 3D illustration and rendering technology, we can create life-like images of proposed facilities that empower your team to articulate your vision effectively to the community. We are committed to crafting environments that will inspire and educate future generations.

BAYSIDE COMMUNITY REC CENTER

BWH designed this 10,134 SF recreational space, including locker rooms, meeting room and a pro-shop, all accessible to the community pool and tennis courts. The design for the facility also includes a main pool, hot tubs, children's play area and outdoor seating/grill spaces. These features are designed around the central lobby which is open to front and back facades, thus engaging the pool deck.

BROOKLYN PARK TEEN CENTER

BWH conducted a feasibility study for a teen recreation center, including the development of a conceptual site plan with both building and outdoor amenities. The study identified site challenges and focused on a design that prioritizes functionality, efficiency, and feasibility. It also assessed spatial constraints and integrated essential amenities to create a practical, community-oriented facility.

SUMMIT SCHOOL & SEVERN SCHOOL

As part of a campus expansion, BWH designed a 30,000 SF "Upper School" facility with administrative offices and a tutoring center. The project includes reconfigured sports fields, a regulation-sized soccer field, and additional parking for community use, enabling field rentals for competitive play. The design also incorporates enhanced security measures, ensuring a safe, accessible space for both students and the broader community.

BWH served as the Owner's Representative for The Severn School's Teel Academic Center, a three-story academic building integrated with existing structures. The project included removing an old building and installing temporary classrooms. We facilitated coordination between architects, staff, and contractors, ensuring smooth progress and clear communication, while enhancing the school's community resources.
